WESTERN COPPER COMPLETES CARMACKS PROJECT PUBLIC HEARING

VANCOUVER, B.C. Western Copper Corporation (“Western Copper” or the “Company”) (TSX:WRN) is pleased to announce that the Yukon Water Board public hearing of the Carmacks Copper Project Type A Water Use Licence application (“WUL”) has been completed.

With the conclusion of the public hearing, Western Copper has now fulfilled all the formal requirements of the water use licensing process. Western Copper awaits the decision from the Yukon Water Board which is expected in the next two to six months.

The WUL represents the final key permit required for the operation of the Carmacks Copper Project.

The Carmacks Copper Project, located approximately 200 km north of Whitehorse, will employ up to 180 workers during operation and will produce 32 million pounds of cathode copper per year at a cash cost of US$0.84/lb of copper, based on a feasibility study completed in May 2007. The mine will require approximately 20 months for construction and will require up to 250 construction workers.
